

ADMINISTRATION

Assignment of Administrative Staff

Except in certain technical roles, administrators must be instructional leaders as well as managers. They must be capable of providing practical assistance to those they supervise as well as of evaluating their performance. They must be expert in all aspects of the instructional program that they manage. They must be well informed regarding recent developments affecting that program whether it be related to law, financing, curriculum, or teaching techniques. For this reason the district shall allocate sufficient resources in both personnel time and funds to actively recruit the best available candidates for each administrative opening from both within and outside of the district.

The superintendent shall be responsible for recommending candidates for administrative positions to the board for its approval. If no suitable candidate for a given position is approved by the board, the superintendent shall make further recommendations until such approval is rendered.
